

The Giving Garden at Twin Ponds

The Giving Garden is comprised of five gardens: “Honey”, “Mason”, “Spelling”, Shelley’s Herb Garden and Potato Row. That’s roughly 1,500’ sq, divided into 19 beds.

The Giving Garden is central to Twin Ponds Garden’s Foodbank Harvest Program. The program includes harvest donations from Twin Ponds gardeners and community gardeners. The harvest (of pesticide/herbicide-free, right off the vine fresh, organic vegetables) goes to Hopelink Shoreline.

Since the program began in 2012, our community donated over 5,400 lbs. That’s the veggie portion of nearly 13,000 adult meals or 32,000 child meals.

The Giving Garden & Harvest Program is run entirely by volunteers.

Chances are, we could really use your time. There are many ways to get involved.

Bed Steward – adopt (plant & tend) one bed from March through Oct

Harvest Help – we typically meet late Sunday afternoons & Monday mornings

Grow a Row – we provide our gardeners seed if they grow a row in their garden

“Glean Me” – our gardeners vacation or have too much, and allow us to ‘glean’

Community – community donations
